The Savage Model 1903, 22 Calibre Rifle.

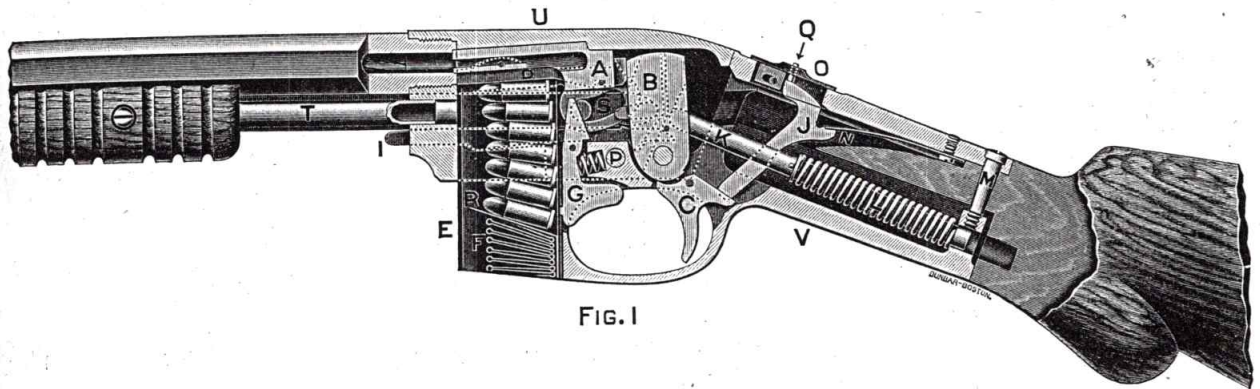

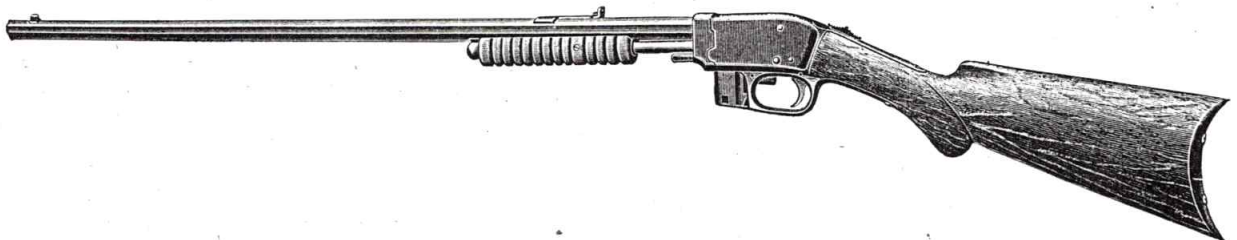

FIG. 1

This weapon is manufactured with octagon barrel only, having a standard length of 24 in. All stocks have pistol grips; the weapon is hammerless; has a take-down action, and the mechanism is strong and simple.

The novel arrangement of the magazine will appeal to those who hunt. A number of magazines can be carried in the pocket, and inserted at will, thus insuring a rapid fire.

The .22 Savage rifle is chambered in two ways only, one to take the 22 short, and the other to take the 22 short, 22 long, and 22 long rifle cartridges. We only stock the rifle chambered for all three cartridges, but when so desired we will procure to order only the rifle chambered for the 22 short.

Two magazines are sent with each rifle, with the rifle chambered for the three cartridges; one magazine is for the 22 short and the other for the 22 long and 22 long rifle cartridges.

Savage Rifles.

Model 1899.

THE SHOOTING QUALITIES OF THIS RIFLE both as regards accuracy and effectiveness, are all that could be desired, and will be something in the nature of a surprise to those sportsmen who are not acquainted with the superior advantages of modern smokeless powder ammunition. The Savage Rifles are made of the best attainable quality of steel, all parts being subject to a rigid and careful inspection for faults in material or workmanship. The construction is simple and the action always reliable.

The rifles are especially designed and built to use the strongest grades of high velocity smokeless rifle powder. The numerous advantages of these rifles are combined with simplicity, strength and ease of manipulation.

Shot Gun Cartridges.

We are offering a very complete line of Kynoch loaded shot shells. These are the most uniform goods made. They gave unqualified satisfaction last season. We have largely increased our stock, and all cartridges are freshly loaded. The high position for quality taken by this firm is largely owing to the fact that they manufacture their own powder. This is a most desirable feature, as the manufacture of the various components entering into a cartridge by the same firm enables the best results to be obtained.
